

Safety and Lead Auditors Course

COURSE OVERVIEW

This internationally-recognised 5-day Safety and Lead Auditors course has been specially designed for those directly involved with the maintenance, monitoring and improvement of Safety and Quality Management Systems. This includes management at all levels. A vital feature of this aviation quality and lead auditor training course is the application of the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System requirements, as they are the foundation for management systems worldwide.

Southpac has a reputation for conducting the industry's most practical and up-to-date aviation lead auditor courses and ISO 9001 courses. Additionally, this course also addresses the IATA requirements for auditor training.
